GRAPHIC DESIGNER JOB DESCRIPTION

Main Purpose of Job

We are the UK's leading print & digital design agency for publishing.

The main purpose of the job is to use your design-based skills in key software packages for the design and production of educational material. This includes the design of most components you might encounter within publishing from whole multi-level series to cover design; marketing material to app design. Additional job functions will be text formatting, page layout and making proof corrections in the production of the books and other material we create for publishers. The job is extremely varied, requiring a good mix of technical ability and creativity.

Reporting to

Design Manager

Main Duties of Job

The main responsibility of the position is to contribute to the design and production workflow using Adobe CC software. To be a valued member of your team under your Design Manager.

This will include the day to day layout of pages or screens to existing designs of educational course material including printed books, CD ROMs, interactive PDFs, web screens, apps and eBooks. This is to be under the ultimate supervision of Design Managers and will include:

- setting up jobs – developing clean, well-structured templates ready to start production;
- formatting text into accurate styles using GREGP to facilitate this;
- carrying out corrections to proofs according to editorial mark-up using standard proof correction marks;
- layout of pages integrating photos and illustration with the text to create visually striking and balanced pages;
- producing complex 'realia' (examples of written English) independently;
- producing original solutions to books, covers and digital material which can be used as templates for production;
- using Adobe Creative Suite to its full potential. We have team membership of Creative Cloud so you will have full access to all of the Adobe CC software.

You will also be expected to carry out, in the interest of achieving deadlines, any other studio task delegated to you by more senior designers. At times of pressurised deadlines you will be expected to work outside contracted hours if asked, paid at the overtime rate.

The job will mainly involve using InDesign, Photoshop, and Illustrator, plus other relevant software. The job will also include using html, CSS and other more code-based skills, having been given appropriate training.

Part of the job is to maintain quality control of your own work from manuscript layout to proof corrections and checking your own accuracy and document integrity in this area. Our clients expect absolute accuracy from suppliers in the publishing process and maintaining this effectively supports our reputation and has been responsible for our business growth. We are considered a quality supplier and a safe pair of hands.

Initially your work would be checked by more senior staff, and all staff, including senior designers, have work checked by our quality control department (Publishing Services) prior to going out to clients.

You will also be aware of and responsible for producing work within the timescale laid down by clients; so being aware of progress in production within budget constraints using our comprehensive workflow management systems.

Career opportunities

Becoming more experienced in the role and working towards being a Senior Designer will involve making improvements in creativity in original design such as series/sample designs and complex realia to the highest level. This is coupled with very sound production abilities (including working close to the speed of a Senior Designer), familiarity with all studio and client procedures and, in addition, a senior design role is expected to include an element of project management on multiple titles. Progression of this role will be to support junior members of staff, and sharing knowledge with them and others in the studio.

You will be expected to keep an accurate record of time spent on the projects you work on, both in a manual diary and using our studio management system.

This role would suit someone who is keen to work in a busy design and production environment and has the mindset to keep improving technically and developing creatively.

Salary

£19,500.00 – £25,500.00

The salary range for this role is intentionally wide, this enables people with a range of experiences to apply as well as provides room for progression within the role.

This is a full-time (37.5 hours, 5 days a week) role based at our studio in Oakley.
