UK's leading design agencies dedicated to editorial design*

WHO ARE WE?

Based in a village just on the outskirts of the old market town Bedford, emc design is one of the UK's leading design agencies for the publishing industry.

We are passionate about what we do and have built up an unrivalled reputation in producing high-end multi-component (print & digital) resources for international educational publishing markets.

Bedford is a short distance from junction 13 on the M1 with good routes east to the A1 and Cambridge. London, St Pancras is 30 minutes by train. The centre of Bedford is just over 4 miles from our studio.

OUR VALUES

A first-class company – It's very important to us that we maintain our position as one of the best editorial design agencies in the UK; not only for our clients and suppliers, but also for our staff.

Constantly improving – It's the small things that count. By constantly making small improvements we believe we can have a significant impact – on our work, our industry and our community.

Best service – Quality, accuracy and creative excellence are fundamental to providing the best service, and we work hard to communicate clearly with our clients and suppliers.

Our community – From supporting local events and charities to engaging with our industry, community and people are really important to us.

Our working environment is really important to us and our studio space is open and light with eating and relaxing areas, air-conditioning, super fast broadband and space to grow for the next few years. There's also lockable bike sheds and showers for those cycling to work.

WE'RE BIG AND SMALL...

We work in small teams, dedicated to individual clients and projects, and being one of the biggest agencies in our sector means we're able to resource the largest courses and the tightest schedules.

At emc design, we invest in bringing together the right mix of skills to offer any level of support based on our clients' individual needs.

WHO ARE OUR CLIENTS?

Our clients are some of the top publishing companies in the world, and they choose their external partners very carefully. Clients return to us because we have a team of exceptional people who deliver stunning design, technically accurate files, and exceptional creative assets, on budget and to deadline.

We are proud to include as regular clients those listed below. Our intention is to grow this list over the next few years and the Publishing Services team is very much part of that process.

“Publishing is a fast-moving business that thrives on creativity and collaboration. With over 100,000 books published each year in the UK alone, publishing contributes more to the British economy than any other creative industry.”

PUBLISHING SERVICES MANAGER JOB DESCRIPTION

Main Purpose of Job

The Publishing Services team are an integral part of the company, who's core role is to support our design teams and provide supplementary services. The role of Publishing Services Manager is to oversee and contribute to this department's day-to-day needs. The role is responsible for bringing the non-design tasks within the studio together, ensuring all aspects of these elements (editorial production, quality control, art-buying, photo research and project management) are delivered on time, to budget and with emc's exacting standards for quality. The role encompasses a business development side where there is an expectation, along with other senior managers, to contribute to the business performance team and to identify areas of potential improvement.

Main Duties of Job

The main responsibility of this full-time position is to manage and contribute to the team responsible for supporting the design teams within the studio and for managing the project management services.

General

- To have an understanding of each non-design job function and task within the studio; art-buying and commissioning process, photo research and licensing, proof corrections, editorial production, audio commissioning, typesetting and project management.
- Ensuring that everyone in the team is working towards 100% accuracy, efficiency and is maintaining quality standards.
- When required, helping with the day-to-day tasks of supporting the design teams with proof checking, art-buying, picture research, project management, scheduling, etc.
- You will be expected to keep an accurate record of time spent on the projects you and your team work on, both in a manual diary and using our studio management system.
- To work with senior managers to ensure the department is working profitably and generates an income/revenue stream, including being responsible for invoicing out the department's time/services.

Commissioning of external suppliers

- To manage the procurement, contracting, quality and standards of external suppliers, including assessing and evaluating their suitability and ongoing performance.
- To build on the existing network of external suppliers, looking for new business avenues and determining what goods, services and people we need to work with.
- Suggesting improvements, where necessary, and working with Production Manager to ensure department working to maximum efficiency using the right tools and software.
- Liaising with designers and production staff for the supply of design work for packaged projects.
- Ensuring costs, procurement and spends are recorded accurately, key information is relayed to managers and costs are kept within budgets.
- Looking at new services and how these not only become useful to our clients, but also increase revenue and profit within the Publishing Services department.

Account management

- Developing relationships with existing clients, working with them to gain feedback on how we can improve what we do, as well as looking for more work.
- Winning of new business and people to work with, attending networking events, engaging with industry related people at trade fairs and events/conferences and through social media.
- Talking with clients, prospects and people in the industry (plus general research and knowledge) to see how the industry is changing and how this impacts the department, including how we work with new suppliers and offer new services. Using this knowledge to work with other senior managers to plan and develop the overall business. Seeking opportunities, where possible, for us.

Systems and processes

- Analysing and developing the systems/processes we already have and looking at ways to maximise their efficiency alongside the design and production workflows. Including understanding our in-built systems to improve efficiency and workload planning.
- Working with the Production Manager and others to effectively schedule and plan workload, and assess where Publishing Services resources can best support the design department and ongoing projects.
- Making sure the department is profitable and sustainably develops its own revenue stream, e.g. looking at assets and how these could be maximised, revenue from project management and packaging, new and existing services.
- To ensure there is full understanding of the workflow and to make staff accountable for day-to-day work and to better plan for future resource utilisation.

Staff recruitment and training

- Analysing the job functions of team members and using this to inform a strategy for growing the department when required by recruiting the right staff, assessing changing working patterns and identifying new skills and functions within the department.
- Involvement in bringing in new recruits, inducting them, training them, providing on-the-job feedback and development. Including identifying ongoing training needs and areas for them to improve and develop in.

The Publishing Services Manager is responsible to the Production Manager
